Mike,

All of our data is uploaded into our scribe database and then we publish it to the EPA website. We can import the real-time air monitoring data as well, but everything will need to QAQC'd before we do. I have CC'd this projects data manager. He can assist with this and line me out on capabilities. As the analytical results come in, we will continue to upload them. Please let me know what I can do to support you. All real-time data on the CTEH dashboard can be sorted and viewed however they wish. Real-time mapping should also be available and custom views can be created based on time.

How hard would it be to supply this to them?

Subject: Request for CTEH Data

Hi Mike

As we discussed, I am working with the Federal and State Health Agencies in support of the County Health Dept for review of monitoring and sampling data for the evaluation of public health and to support local messaging

Through the CTEH website – we have been able to review the data as it became available but the health agencies (most specifically ATSDR) is looking for a spreadsheet or database of all the data collected by sampling location, date, type of sample, results.....and other pertinent specific data information for each of the sampling results.

Having the information sooner than later would be very appreciative as everyone has been trying to evaluate the public health concerns.

Please let me know if this provided.

Debbie Lindsey
